Apply Now! Interviews held on a rolling basis

Do you want to work with a dynamic and creative team who are passionate about equalities, diversity, and inclusion?

Diversity Matters North West (DMNW) Ltd is looking for experienced and highly motivated training facilitator who share our values and ethos to join our expanding team working with minority communities to address inequalities in health and wellbeing, learning, employment and volunteering. This role is on a casual basis to cover peaks in activities and staff leave. Hours will vary depending on the demand.

We are looking for individuals who are experienced in asset-based community development work and community-based learning, passionate about social justice and have worked with women from ethnic minority communities where English is not their first language. You will be highly organised, have a TEFL or TESOL qualification, good IT literacy, excellent communicational and interpersonal skills and experienced in delivering community-based learning. You will have a good working knowledge of local challenges for minority ethnic women and possess a good working knowledge of local services.

How To Apply:

Please email your latest CV, your contact details and covering letter to hr@diversitymattersnw.org.uk. Your covering letter must explain what skills, experience and knowledge you have to meet the requirements of the role (see job description and person specification) and why you want to work for DMNW.
